SPANISH PLANE BOMBS U.S. WARSHIP

SHOOTS SELF AT HOME IN CHICAGO

Death On Anniversary
Of Mother's Fatal
Auto Accident

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wilmarth Ickes, 37-year-old foster son of the Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, was found shot to death today in his step-father's suburban Winnetka home on the first anniversary of the death of his mother, Mrs. Anna Wilmarth Ickes.

Police Sergeant Harold Lewis of the suburb said "unquestionably it is suicide."

Young Ickes recently learned he had tuberculosis, interior department officials said in Washington. Winnetka police also thought he might have brooded over the death of his mother near Velarde, N. M., when an automobile in which she was riding was overturned.

Ickes Flying Home
Secretary Ickes immediately boarded a plane at Washington for Chicago.

Wilmarth Ickes' wife, the former Elizabeth Dahman of Milwaukee, was notified of the tragedy as she returned to Chicago from a lake cruise. With her were their children, Donald, 12, Anna 10, and Barbara, 6.

The body was found by Eric Magnuson, gardener and caretaker of the elder Ickes' estate.

Adopted In 1911
The cabinet member formally adopted Wilmarth after his marriage to Mrs. Ickes in 1911. Wilmarth's father, Prof. James Westphal Thompson, then in the department of English at the University of Chicago, was divorced in 1909.

Magnuson told police a .38 caliber pistol lay on the body, which (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

ENVOY-BRIDE QUITS POST

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Formal preparation was under way today at the state department to notify Christian X., king of Denmark and Iceland, that Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde had resigned her portfolio as American minister at Copenhagen.

Mrs. America's first woman diplomat—daughter of William Jennings Bryan—became a member of the Danish court by her recent marriage to Captain Boerge Rohde of King Christian's bodyguard.

With her husband as chauffeur, Mrs. Rohde intends to tour the midwest in a trailer, making stump speeches as a private citizen for Candidate Roosevelt.

Word of madame minister's resignation was received at the department from President Roosevelt at Rapid City, S. D.

Norway Decides To Keep Trotzky

OSLO, Norway, (AP)—The cabinet decided tonight to keep Leon Trotzky, the Russian exile, in isolation under special guard.

Without disclosing where Trotzky and his wife will be interned, the government officially announced passage of an order-in-council, establishing special rules "regulating Trotzky's movements and his intercourse with other persons."

Earlier, officials indicated they might keep Trotzky permanently in Norway, despite Moscow protests.

'Suckers' Last Chance Gone

If they don't get you coming, they're going to get you going. It has been variously estimated previously that the fellow who pumps his nickels into those pesky marble machines has about one chance in 20 of walking out with any nickels left. That one chance was taken away today, the element of uncertainty removed, and it became a lead pipe cunch that the person who puts his nickels into the marble machines puts them there to stay.

Machine Gets All
In an opinion being prepared by District Attorney W. F. Menton on the legality of the games, which have been under fire for some time, he will say that "the machine is legal so long as the returns are in free games only."

In other words the player who wins 30 free games for a nickel will have to put 30 free games (or nickels) back into the machine. Otherwise the game will be illegal, and the proprietor and owner of the machine will be violating the law.

The onus will be on the proprietor of the place in which the machine is operated to stay within the limits of the law.

Guards Needed
All "payoffs" will be in nickels. A guard probably will have to be appointed to make sure the nickels go back into the maw of the machine.

Machines paying off in cash, with the option up to the player to put his cash back into the machine, or into his pocket, will be against the law.

Thereby making everything perfectly legal. There will be no more gambling of this kind in Orange county.

Where there is no element of chance there is no gamble. And where there was a very small gamble connected with the machines before, there will be none at all now.

And the fellow who wants to gamble with his nickels, or his dollars, will do it just the same. He'll figure out a way.

Oaky Doaks and Comic Folk To Stage Journal Election

Say, young'uns! Who'd you rather see president? Oaky Doaks? Cap Stubbs? Buck Rogers? Or Fritz Ritz?

Election time may be over for awhile for mother and dad, but it's just starting for us. We're starting a political campaign that is a campaign, and no fooling. Every kid that reads The Journal funny paper has a chance to cast a vote for his favorite comic character.

Here's the way we'll work it: Every day for awhile The Journal will print a ballot. A "big shot" from every comic strip in The Journal funny paper will be on it—they're all running for office. And it will be up to you to see that your favorite gets elected.

Each day you can mark your choice for your three favorites. Then The Journal will announce the three comies that you have elected as officers of Comieland.

The winners will rule over Comieland for the rest of the year. The one getting the most votes will be president, the next highest congressman, and the third, supervisor.

The election will be mainly for us fellows, but if mother and dad want to vote, hand them a ballot, too. When you've marked your favorites, and gotten all your friends to mark theirs, too, mail or bring them to The Journal Comieland Editor, at The Journal office.

Watch tomorrow's Journal for more election news

RAY PIXLEY KILLED IN CRASH

Fullerton Race - Driver
Thrown From Speeding
Car in Tryout

Thrown from his roaring mount at a speed in excess of 80 miles an hour, Ray Pixley, 29, Fullerton race car driver, was killed yesterday in a qualifying race at a speedway in Roby, Ind.

Friends of the pilot here today said he must have been driving a strange mount, as he always insisted on using a safety belt while racing. He was the only driver in the Indianapolis speedway classic last May 30 to use a belt. Pixley astounded old-timers by placing sixth in the 500-mile race in his first appearance on the track.

A tragic fate took a hand in yesterday's accident, when it was learned that George Connors, with whose car Pixley collided, was a close friend of the Fullerton driver. The pair traveled to Indianapolis together last spring. Last week Connors came out of another fatal smashup when Doc McKenzie, eastern driver, was killed in a similar collision.

Pixley had been living in Paterson, N. J., while competing in two eastern racing circuits. He was driving midge car at Paterson and Madison Square Garden, New York, and larger race cars on the Hankinson circuit, which included a dozen eastern and mid-western tracks.

He had made no engagement to appear at Roby yesterday and apparently had stopped at the track while driving to fill some other speedway engagement.

Name Survivors
The Fullerton driver started his racing career in Washington, but soon came to Southern California, where he was known as one of the best dirt track drivers to compete at Huntington Beach, Riverside, Burbank and other tracks. Later he joined with other "big time" drivers on larger tracks and was rated as one of the best pilots in the country at the time of his death.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Pixley, Linden, Wash., and a brother, Kenneth Pixley, also of Linden. For the past two years he has been a resident of Fullerton, living with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gaines, 312 West Chapman avenue.

Driving at a high rate of speed, the youth sideswiped another car as both machines were approaching the northern limits of Laguna Beach. The other automobile gave chase. As the boy's car sped on, the victims of the sideswiping incident attracted attention of police.

Officer Howard Allanson joined the pursuit. The Whittier youth was overtaken and brought to the Laguna Beach police station. There he told Officer Allanson he had been paroled from the Whittier institution to attend the funeral of his father at San Diego.

The boy's story is being investigated. His possession of the automobile which he was driving also is being probed. The car was registered to Vernon King, 427 North Fuller street, Los Angeles.

Occupants of the car which was sideswiped were Edward Allen Griswold, 427 North Garfield street, Alhambra, and J. P. Carter, 675 North Kinsmore street, Los Angeles.

BOY, 15, SLAYS AGED CRIPPLE

CHICAGO, (AP)—Roland Monroe, 15-year-old choir boy, maintained an unruffled calm today as officials studied his confession to the hammer slaying of a crippled widow in a robbery that yielded $8 worth of jewelry.

Assistant State's Attorney Richard Devine said the red-haired prisoner confessed last night he beat Mrs. Agnes Roffeis, 65, to death Saturday night at her home.

The prosecutor quoted the youth as observing without remorse: "I don't think they'll convict me, though. I'm too young."

Monroe said he went to Mrs. Roffeis' apartment to collect for newspapers he had delivered.

Edward's Yacht Smacks Bridge

ATHENS, Greece, (AP)—With King Edward on the deck, the yacht Nahlin smashed into a bridge today in the strait off Chalkis, on the Aegean island of Euboea.

The yacht, carrying the monarch on a care-free holiday in the Adriatic and Aegean seas, apparently was not seriously damaged.

POSSE SEEKS KILLERS WHO SLEW TRIO

Brothers, In Resisting
Arrest, Shoot Down
Their Victims

YREKA, Calif., (AP)—Vowing vengeance, possees tracked two brothers through the wild mountain country of the California-Oregon border today in a relentless hunt for the killers of two law officers and a marine pilot.

Lynching or a gun fight to the death when the possees corner the fugitives was freely predicted in this lawless community where a year ago angry citizens dragged a killer from the county jail and hanged him.

Fugitives Vanish
The fugitives, John H. Bright, 35, and his brother, Coke T. Bright, 30, sought as the men who shot and clubbed the three victims to death at the remote mining settlement of Horse Creek yesterday, vanished into the Siskiyou mountains.

They left behind the bullet-pierced bodies of Deputy Sheriff Martin Lange, 48, and Constable Joseph Clark, 65, of Yreka, and Capt. Fred Seaborn, 50, former navy officer and port pilot at Vallejo and Mare Island navy yard.

Wanted for Assault
The shooting occurred when the officers sought to arrest the brothers at their mining claim, 35 miles north of Yreka, on an assault charge brought by Captain Seaborn and his friend and vacation companion, Charles Baker.

Baker, who fled for his life, told Sheriff Chandler here, the two officers and Captain Seaborn found the Bright brothers asleep under blankets beside Horse Creek.

The assault complaint had resulted from an altercation the Brights had the previous day with Baker and Captain Seaborn over horse pasture. Baker said John Bright resisted arrest and that Deputy Sheriff Lange hit him.

All Three Shot
Coke Bright then shot Constable Clark as he went to Lange's aid, Baker stated. In the fight which followed, Lange was struck down by the clubbed rifle, the broken stock of which lay near his body, and shot through the face and head.

Captain Seaborn fell dying, with Lange's pistol clutched in his hand, as a bullet-pierced his skull. No shot had been fired from the pistol.

PLANE DERBY AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Tex., (AP)—Glenn H. Brink, 19-year-old Detroit flier, flashed across the finish line at Love field today as the first of 28 planes in Ruth Chatterton's air derby to reach Dallas from Hat Springs, Ark.

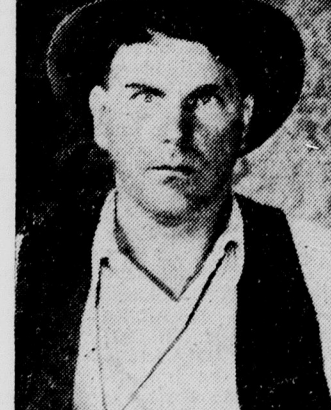

Bert Galbraith of Hollywood, Calif., was the only contestant who had not reached here this afternoon. Officials said he was flying a slow ship.

Flight of the ships to Dallas marked completion of the first half of the derby sponsored by the actress between Cleveland and Los Angeles. The western half, or Dallas-Los Angeles, will get under way at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow, officials said.

Mine Blast Kills 16; 290 Entombed

BOCHUM, Westphalia, Germany, (AP)—Rescuers tore frantically at debris under huge spotlights tonight to save 290 men, caught in a mine explosion. Sixteen bodies had been recovered at 7 p. m. and 18 other miners were found badly injured. The death list was mounting hourly.

Deputy Slain

Two brothers were being hunted near Yreka today for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Martin Lange (above), a constable and a marine pilot when the trio and a fourth man sought to arrest the brothers. Deputy Lange figured in the news just a year ago at Yreka when he was kidnapped by a mob of 50 men who stormed the jail and lynched C. L. Johnson, murder suspect. (Associated Press Photo)

TURNER HURT IN CRACKUP

Racing Plane Wrecked
By Forced Landing
In New Mexico

GALLUP, N. M., (AP)—Col. Roscoe Turner's first airplane crash in 19 years of flying had knocked him out of the transcontinental Bendix trophy race today.

En route to New York for the event, the holder of the east-west speed record, who has not missed this race since he first entered in 1923, was forced down on a little farm plot in the heart of the Zuni Indian reservation some 65 miles south of here early yesterday.

While the fast little winged monoplane was completely wrecked, the pilot was able to ride away on horseback to the town of Zuni, where an Indian service employee picked him up and brought him here by automobile.

Although badly shaken up and apparently suffering from rib fractures, Colonel Turner gave no visible signs of being any the worse for wear, except for a bump on his forehead.

Turner said a broken throttle control forced him down.

The motor died, he said, while he was flying at 10,000 feet en route to his first stop at Albuquerque from Los Angeles. He said a hurried survey of the forbidding terrain revealed a "smooth spot" below "so I just poured the plane in there the best way I could."

'Jeep' Causes Jitters for Balboa Exposition Crowd

Yellow-spotted elephants, top-hatted reptiles and other hang-overish apparitions are "out" at Balboa.

Now residents of the harbor community are in a jitter over the "jeep."

Students of animal lore are scratching their heads from a safe distance—while worrying about a strange animal that made its appearance at the Merchants' exposition yesterday.

J. Woods, who lived in the hobo "jungle" near The Arches until the camping spot was removed recently, and who still lives in that vicinity, brought the "jeep" into the exposition building at the Balboa pavilion yesterday, gingerly carrying him by the tail. Spectators screamed and ran, but quiet was restored when the strange creature was imprisoned in a cage.

The animal—or reptile—slightly resembles an iguana, although larger than any known member of that family, residents contend. The "jeep" is about six feet long.

VESSEL FIRES BACK; HULL PROTESTS

Irun Streets Are Blasted
By Rebels; All But
Troops Quit City

By the Associated Press
Rebel bombs tore two women to bits in the northern Spanish city of Irun today while the United States government, stunned by the bombing of an American destroyer, dispatched stiff protests to Madrid and to the Fascist insurgents alike.

In a vicious attack on long-defended Irun, rebel planes blasted great holes in the streets as the city was being evacuated en masse. Before the attack had begun, more than 4000 inhabitants had fled into France.

"Keep Hands Off"
On direct orders from President Roosevelt, now in the Middle-West, the state department demanded the fighting Spaniards keep their hands off United States ships.

Although manifestly hopeful that no new incident of that character will occur, navy department attaches said a commanding officer's first consideration was the protection of his ship and crew, and that he had full discretion to proceed in any manner he sees fit to insure that protection. Should the judgment of any of the commanding officers of the five ships now in Spanish waters be that use of the ship's guns is necessary in an emergency, he has full authority to resort to such procedure.

Neither Target Hit
The protests came after an unidentified airplane off the west coast of Spain had dropped bombs about the destroyer Kane, which replied with nine volleys from its anti-aircraft piece. Neither the Kane nor the airplane was hit.

The commanding officer of the Kane was said to have acted on his own judgment in returning the fire of the unidentified plane which dropped bombs near his ship, and officers in Washington generally praised his action as highly creditable.

DEATH CLAIMS W. F. WHITING

HOLYOKE, Mass., (AP)—William Fairfield Whiting, 72, former secretary of commerce, died at his home here today after a long illness.

One of the country's leading paper manufacturers, Whiting was appointed to succeed Herbert Hoover when the latter resigned as head of the commerce department. He served in President Calvin Coolidge's cabinet from Aug. 21, 1928, to March 4, 1929.

Whiting became a friend of Coolidge when the latter was mayor of nearby Northampton. He was known as one of the first "Coolidge-for-President" men.

What About Townsend Plan?

No nationwide movement in years has shown the amazing strength and vitality of the Townsend plan. What is the secret of it all? What is the OARP? What are Townsends in Orange county and Santa Ana doing toward the accomplishment of their goal of a $200-a-month pension for all qualified old folks? INJURE 14 IN NICKEL WINNER IN RIOT WEEK-END CRASHES

Three Face Charges As Aftermath Of Wrecks Throughout County

Fourteen persons suffered injuries in Orange county in week-end accidents reported by the California Highway Patrol and city police.

Esteban Ursua, 28, Delhi, is held under a reckless driving charge at the county hospital as the result of a Sunday afternoon crash on South Main street between Delhi road and the Martin airport, in which he assertedly forced one car off the road and crashed head-on into another.

Force Car Hit

Ursua's car, according to the report, crowded a car driven by Joseph E. Smith, 32, 423 South Flower street, Santa Ana, off the highway and into a utility pole. Smith suffered slight injuries. Ursua's car then careened to the left, according to witnesses, and collided with a car driven by L. M. Forney, 55, of 216 South Sycamore street, Santa Ana. Ursua suffered chest injuries.

Others injured in the crash, none of them seriously, were Clarence Armstrong, 11, Costa Mesa; Kenneth Coursey, 16, Santa Ana, and Ramon Porras. The latter suffered a scalp wound.

Car Abandoned

A driver who overturned his auto West First street, Orange, Sunday evening, abandoned the car there, patrolmen reported.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wither, 319 Arazola avenue, Long Beach, sustained slight injuries in a collision with a car driven by Grant Edward McCarthy, 66, of Ontario, at the intersection of Seventeenth street and Springdale road near Westminster Friday night.

Two persons were injured when Guadalupe G. Valdez, Riverside, went to sleep Sunday morning while driving on Crowther street, Placentia, and struck a utility pole. Fernin Chavez, 26, and Yldro Ruvera, 22, both of Colton, were cut and bruised.

Driver Jailed

Raymond Troutman, 19, of 866 South Philadelphia street, Anaheim, was booked at the county jail Sunday night on a drunk

Marble Machine Won't Pay

Those nickel marble games are going to get someone into trouble yet.

Sometime early this morning an unidentified visitor got a winner at the Golden Camel Cafe, but the machine had been tilted and refused to pay.

The nickel gambler threatened a one-man riot if he didn't get his money. A gentleman, he indicated, always paid his gambling debts, and that machine was no gentleman.

A hurry call was put in for a couple of cops, and Deputies Brown and Gulick of the sheriff's driving charge after an accident in which his car rolled over twice on McClay street, Santa Ana, injuring two companions.

Florence Champlain, 810 Zeyn street, Anaheim, a passenger, sustained a six-inch scalp wound, and possible skull fracture, and Alice Mene, 209 East La Palma street, Anaheim, suffered a cut hand. Both were given treatment at the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

When Charles Marks Bustillos, Garden Grove, assertedly missed a boulevard stop at Third and Main streets, Santa Ana, Sunday morning, his car crashed into an auto and trailer driven by Miss Alice Thurman, Seal Beach, city police reported. Romero Ramirez, a passenger in Bustillos' car, was arrested on a drunk charge.

Trucks Collide

Sam Lindeboom, 21, Edgemont, and Alvan McLain, 26, Riverside, were cut and bruised when their car, driven by the former truck, piled up on an asphalt on Orangehorpe avenue and overturned. They were treated at the Fullerton general hospital.

Jack M. Nlioka of Stanton is reported in serious condition at Artesia hospital from injuries sustained Sunday in Norwalk when his light truck collided with an empty tank truck on Firestone boulevard. The tank truck, driven by Fred M. Smith, Long Beach, overturned, but Smith was not injured.

Refugio Negrete, 21, of 321 Baker street, Placentia, was treated at the county hospital Saturday night for a broken leg sustained in an automobile accident. Alton Laurie, 383 South Olive street, Orange, was treated for minor cuts and bruises.

office answered. The unknown rioter, after calling on cops, the manager and all the gods of chance to witness the fact he was "robbed," had left by the time the deputies arrived.

PEACE OFFICERS TO MEET HERE

Santa Ana will be host to Orange county's law enforcement officers Wednesday night, when the Orange county peace officer's association meets here with Police Chief Floyd Howard as chairman.

Dinner will be served by the American Legion auxiliary at 7 o'clock in Veteran's hall.

No speaker has been secured for the evening, although a varied entertainment program featuring the Vera Gitty school of dancing, will be presented.

war in Ethiopia; remarks in the maelstrom of Arab hatred for Jews in Palestine; discussions along the edge of revolt-torn Spain and in Rome; secret fortifications of Italy's island strongholds in the Aegean sea—all indicate that the surprise skirmish occurred.

As the vessel cut the waves about 40 miles off the Spanish coast, a tri-motored, low-winged monoplane flew over her at 4:10 p. m. Spanish time, and dropped two bombs, which exploded perilously close to the Kane. Twice more the plane flew over the warship, and the second time the Kane's anti-aircraft gun fired nine rounds in the direction of the plane during its approach and retreat.

The government defenders of Iran brought 300 rebel prisoners to the city tonight and announced they would be executed at the most dangerous points to insurgent air bombs.

Old People Evacuated

The prisoners were brought from Port Guadalupe after a dozen projectiles had burst in the city, evacuated the city, and the fighters and their hostages.

"All old women, old men and children" of Republican families were sent across the French frontier, government leaders announced, but families of suspected rightist sympathies were forced to remain. All "anti-Republican" prisoners they added, would be executed to the bombardment when the rebels attempt to carry out their threat to reduce Iran to ashes.

Secret Service on Job

British secret service is looking mightily right now to uncover proof of Italy's activities. Secret reports, which I saw, admit that irrefutable evidence still is lacking, but meanwhile the danger of a religious war, igniting some 15,000,000 Moslems in the Near and Far East, gets closer and closer.

There is no hiding in Rome of the glee over the effort thus far of the Fascist revolt in Spain. Italy's interest there—and reports say it is bolstered by money and arms shipments—is the adding of another Fascist border to the ring of nazism and fascism that now all but surrounds France.

Want British Sudan

Italians not in official position say Italy wants the British Sudan, a tremendous territory that would link her colonies of Tripoli, Libya and Eritrea, on the northern edge of East Africa, with Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland, on the south.

She would then control more than one-fifth of all Africa, most of the African shores of the Mediterranean and Red Sea, as well as outlets of the Indian ocean.

She would have a clear sweep through East Africa, encircling by land Egypt, British and French Somaliland. A system of heavy truck roads, such as Italians build marvelously, would reduce the importance of the Suez Canal.

Just Short Ferry

Traffic with Ethiopia from Italy then would be a matter of a short ferry straight across the Mediterranean, then truck hauls through deserts and mountains south all over Italian territory. The British Sudan prevents that now.

Into the danger area of the Near East, turbulent now under British rule, just the Italian islands of Rhodes and Leros in the Aegean. Rhodes, beautiful base of the Crusaders in the Holy wars, is southernmost, well fortified with coastal guns and scout planes. Her shores are still packed with barbed wire cross pieces, set up when trouble loomed with Britain in the Mediterranean.

Great Plane Base

The great seaplane base there, with 200 of the fastest scouts and bombers always ready, has been dug out from the base of a cliff that comes straight down to the sea.

Planes actually can take off under the cliff, and be in the air when they reach open water. Once they return and taxi into the opening, they are absolutely immune from aerial attack, protected by hundreds of feet of rock and dirt above them.

All the Near East is well within the range of these planes. Italian aviation today, both in trained fliers and planes, proved its efficacy in Ethiopia. And the boys who fly, as well as the 350,000 men, war hardened veterans of Ethiopia, are apparently eager to get going again. That first taste of victory was wondrously sweet.

DUCE HURLS THREAT OF TROOPS

AVELLINO, Italy, (AP)—Premier Mussolini returned to Rome today after reviewing, with King Victor Emanuel, 60,000 of the 8,000,000 troops which he told the world were under his instant command.

The marching soldiers concluded the annual military maneuvers in which picked troops and the Italian high command participated.

"We always, in the course of a few hours and after a simple order, can mobilize 8,000,000 men," he told cheering thousands who crowded the town square here.

Diplomatic quarters interpreted his declaration to be aimed against two receptionists by Adolf Hitler in Germany and Joseph Stalin in Russia.

The first, they declared, was the reichsfuehrer's extension of the military training period in Germany from one to two years.

The second was the Soviet dictator's statement that Russian armies must be prepared to march at a moment's notice.

was on a bed in a room on the first floor.

The body, clad in pajamas, was found by Magnuson when he entered to bring Ickes his breakfast.

The bullet entered the temple above the right ear and emerged from the top of the head.

Dispute Over Note

Winnetka police had reported to the Chicago coroner there was a note written by Ickes, but Sergeant Lewis said he had not found any communication.

The sergeant said Ickes had been in ill health and recently suffered from severe headaches. He was under a physician's care, and the gardeners had been taking care of Ickes. There was no one else in the home at the time of the tragedy.

Ickes was treasurer and principal owner of the General Printing Company in Chicago.

The victim adopted the name Ickes when his mother, the late Mrs. Anna Wilmarth Ickes, married the elder Ickes.

Capt. Harry C. Enault of the Winnetka police said Ickes probably had shot himself sometime during the night. He said Ickes had been staying at his foster father's home because there was no one at his own home to look after him during the absence of the family.

Mrs. Anna Wilmarth Ickes was prominent in Illinois politics before her death. She served several terms as a Republican member of the Illinois house of representatives, and was a member of the board of trustees of the University of Illinois.

Payroll Forger Sought by Police

City police today sought a forger who endorsed a lost payroll check for $49.77 and cashed it at a Santa Ana clothing store in payment for a suit of clothes.

The check, made out to George S. Moffatt, 5165 Fountain street, Hollywood, and endorsed with the same name, had been lost by Moffatt more than a week ago at Newport Beach, police discovered.

The clothing store reported receiving the check last Tuesday in payment for a $30 suit. The check was returned marked "cancelled" on Saturday.

Morocco more than six weeks ago. From Burgos, the rebels announced plans to continue bombardment of Madrid airports, as a prelude to a final drive on the capital. Madrid itself was bombed Friday night, and since has carried out the utmost precautions against new raids.

International complications of the war increased with the reported killing of a French priest by a leftist living squad in the semi-independent principality of Andorra, and the death, in Mallorca fighting, of a French newspaperman.

With the Vatican, in an unofficial summary, announcing 162 churches and other religious institutions had been burned in Spain, uncensored advices from Madrid itself disclosed a long list of prominent personalities which the government cryptically reported "dead." It was assumed most of them died of firing squad bullets.

German Embassy Moved. Germany, declaring it could not count upon the Madrid government for protection of its embassy, announced the embassy had been moved to the southeastern port of Alicante. There, presumably, German warships can protect the diplomats.

Madrid strengthened its air defenses and dispatched reinforcements to prevent encirclement of the capital. Authorities claimed important, if bloody, victories in the Guadarrama mountains north of the capital and in central southern Spain. The government announced rebels were repulsed in the Toledo sector, although official circles, earlier, had acknowledged a rebel advance.

On Other Fronts. Other successes for the Socialist government militia were reported from Badajoz province, stronghold of the Fascist army and foreign legion which revolted in Spain and

RIOTING CHARGE IS REDUCED

It takes more than one man to make a riot.

So when Gregorio Delgado, lone survivor of 116 Mexicans arrested July 6 for rioting, came to trial in superior court today, they changed the charge against him to assault with a deadly weapon.

Delgado's 115 companions were released by Superior Judge H. G. Ames several weeks ago for lack of identification.

Delgado is accused of beating A. B. Andrade, orchard guard, with a stick, during the alleged riot July 6, when citrus workers were on strike.

A jury was expected to be selected today before Superior Judge G. K. Scovel. Charles M. Astle, one of the five attorneys appearing for the original 116 arrested, is defending Delgado.

Arrest Boy on Burglary Charge

An 11-year-old Los Alamitos Mexican boy was turned over to probation authorities today following his arrest by deputies on charges of burglarizing the Floyd R. Gillis service station at Los Alamitos Saturday night.

A passerby, D. F. Emory, is said by sheriff's officers to have witnessed the burglary, but was unable to apprehend the boy at that time when the youth's bulldog chased him away.

The boy later was followed to his home, where he was found hiding under the building, still guarded by his dog.

DRY WORKERS WILL DRAFT PLANS

With complete registration of Orange county "drys" as their goal, dry workers will meet at 4 p. m. Wednesday in the First Methodist church, Sixth and Spurgeon streets, to plan their pre-election campaign.

The drive to get all local option sympathizers registered as voters will be conducted as part of the workers' objective of getting the local option measure made into law in November.

In proportion to its quota, Orange county did more to place the local option measure on the ballot than any other county in the state, Harry W. Lewis, chairman, announced.

The 237 volunteer workers secured 14,512 signatures on a petition to place the measure before California voters. Check of registration blanks revealed that 13,423 of these signers were correctly registered and could be accepted by state officials as bonafide voters.

The quota for Orange county was set at 6074, less than half the number of signatures obtained. Only one county, Los Angeles, exceeded the local group, with 110,568 signatures, which was not as large a proportion above their quota as Orange county workers obtained.

Passage of the local option measure would mean that each locality could decide by its own vote whether liquor could be sold in its boundaries.

PIXLEY PASSES AWAY
FULLERTON'S PRIEBE
SANTA ANA IN SEVEN

A popular, clean-cut athlete who didn't drink, smoke or swear. That was Ray Pixley, 26, Fullerton's famed automobile racer who passed away as the result of a smash-up on Roby track in Indiana yesterday.

The Grim Reaper cut down Orange county's most deserving dare-devil, an accomplished speedster who labored long on Riverside and Huntington Beach tracks for a start in the hazardous sport.

Young Pixley had the ability and the determination his many admirers believed would carry him to the heights—a victory at Indianapolis. He placed sixth in the 500-mile classic Memorial day—a remarkable effort in which he, a beginner, outsmarted some of the best in the game.

Death in Indiana came only a few weeks after he had recuperated from cuts and bruises in a sensational crack-up at Madison Square Garden in New York.

Back from Berlin, where he made motion-picture studies of athletes during the Eleventh Olympiad, Roy Pribe of Santa Paula soon will be on the job as Fullerton Jaycee's new football coach.

Priebe comes to the Yellow-jackets with splendid schooling in the Jones' system as taught by our own Bill Cook and Blanchard Beatty of the Dons, Jesse Mortensen of Riverside, Bert Heiser of Chaffey. They say Priebe has plenty "on the ball."

Friend Wilbur Fogleman, sports end of the Riverside Enterprise, has the nightclub situation all figured out. Sez he:

"Santa Ana over Huntington Beach, four victories to three, for the National league golf-fan."

"San Bernardino over Covina, four wins to two, for the American league title. And—"

"Santa Ana to clout San Bernardino for the Southern California association championship."

A fan called in to "ride" this department for that miserable prediction of the Star-Oiler opener. We tabbed Santa Ana to win a 4-1 game that went to Huntington Beach, 6-0. That's enough to make anyone lose confidence in tonight's guess: Stars 3, Oilers 2.

Rudolph (Rudy) Heman of Olive and Riverside, who is Chicago-bound to hurl for the Phoenix, Ariz. Jewelers in the National softball finals Sept. 12, 13 and 14, has been guaranteed $5 per day and expenses. . . . Rudy topped American league pitchers with an 813 average for Riverside, a .310 that was with the 13-inch ball, 37½-ft. pitching distance, 45-ft. baselines. . . . at Chicago the 12-inch sphere, 40-ft. rubber and 60-ft. bases will be employed.

Portland held a two-game lead over the closest of five closely-bunched rivals today at the conclusion of a sparkling week of baseball on Pacific Coast league diamonds.

San Diego and Seattle ended the week in a tie for second place, the Missions in fourth place, followed by Oakland and Los Angeles.

Portland improved its position slightly by dividing a doubleheader with the San Francisco Seals yesterday to win the series by the odd game. The Beavers captured the first game, 6-5, but lost the short afterpiece, 3-10.

Los Angeles' 6-5, 13-inning win over Seattle saw both teams come from behind at various times to end the ninth in a tie. Jigger Stutz tripped home relief pitcher Joe Berry with the deciding run. The Indians won the seven-inning game, 4-3. Thomas' wild pitch let Dick Gyselman score the winning run.

The San Diego Padres lost both games to Oakland, 9-1, 4-3.

Four Mission pitchers couldn't hold Sacramento in the first game as the Solons won, 14-8. Walter Beck won the nightcap for the Reds, 2-0.

BETTERIDGE TRIUMPHS
FRESNO. (AP)—Bill Betteridge won the featured midweek race for the third consecutive week here last night. His time for the 30 laps (six miles) was 8 minutes, 20 seconds. Gilbert Guthrie, Los Angeles, was severely injured when his car hurtled through a crash wall.

GIANTS BANK ON HUBBELL AND OTT

'Screwball' Wins No. 20 As Terrymen Ramble On to N. L. Pennant

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The way things shape up now, those red-hot Giants are in a nice spot to ride into the National league pennant on Carl (Screwball) Hubbell's pitching arm, Mel (Little Feller) Ott's bat—and the breaks.

Anyway, Bill Terry's troupe is sporting a four-game lead on the second-place Cardinals today, because of those factors, while the Cubs are nursing a lot of sore spots down in third place—also because of the same.

With the worst of the western trip over, things look bright, from a Giant standpoint, for a subway series in New York. Of course, there are still two games to go with the Cubs and a pair with the Cards. But the worst that can happen will still leave the Giants in front when they go back to the Polo grounds.

Cubs Fall Hard
The doubleheader start of the "crucial" series, by which the Cubs hoped to chop the Giants' lead to one game yesterday, was mostly New York before it ended. "Screwball" Hubbell's elbowing

CARL (Screwball) HUBBELL
He Leads Way for Giants

bauffed the Chicago champs in the opener to put out a seven-hit, 6-1 decision, for the pitcher's 20th win of the campaign. The "Little Feller's" bat came through in the nightcap, blasting out homer No. 25 with two mates aboard in the ninth inning to turn what seemed certain defeat into an 8-6 Giant win over Larry French.

This double defeat dropped the Cubs out of second, and pulled the Cards into the number two spot. The gas house gang, with Rudy Dean, as usual, gangster number one, clubbed the Dodgers 6-3 in the opener of their bargain bill, to gain an even break. Van Mungo allowed seven hits in the 13-inning nightcap for a 2-1 Dodger win.

The Yanks all but nailed the American league pennant to their mast by taking the White Sox in both ends of a doubleheader, 8-1 and 4-1. Bump Hadley turned in his 12th win of the season in the opener, and Monte Pearson pitched three-hit ball in the nightcap to match Vernon Kennedy's futile three-hit effort.

The Yanks' twin boosted them 16 full games in front of the pack, and from here on in they have to play less than 500 ball.

Ferrell Wins One
Wes Ferrell, with the aid of Eric McNair's four hits, took the Red Sox' opener against Cleveland, 3-2, while old Ruben Walberg hurled a three-hitter for a 5-1 win in the nightcap, in which last week's Cleveland "strikeout sensation," young Bob Feller, was rudely blasted from the hill in five innings.

The Tigers split with the Athletics, winning the nightcap 3-2 behind Tommy Bridges, after dropping the 12-inning opener 5-4, to advance to a third place tie with the White Sox.

By getting the even break, the A's pulled out of the cellar for the first time in a month, and the Browns dropped in. The Senators shoved the Browns to the bottom by sweeping their two games, 5-4 and 7-4.

The Cincinnati Reds beat the Phillies twice, 6-3 and 4-3, to go back into fifth place in the National league, replacing the Bees.

Cornelius Johnson, the U. S. Olympic high-jump champion, says he'll do 7 feet some day, while Forrest Towns expects to do 13.8 in the high hurdles.

Bill Sweeney, manager of the Portland Ducks, missed the International league batting title last year by failing to hit on his last time at the plate.

Dove Hunting Season Opens in California

Dove hunters were polishing up their guns today in readiness for the opening of the California season at 7 a. m. tomorrow.

Imperial valley will attract many of the local hunters because the best spots in Orange county have "No Hunting Allowed" signs.

The season in fish and game districts, 4, 4½ and 4¾ will run from Sept. 1 to Oct. 31.

There will be a bag limit of 15 per day, 30 per week, and a possession limit of 15.

The three-shell limit for repeating shotguns fixed by federal regulation last season will be in effect for the current season.

The Southern California area includes Orange, Inyo, Mono, San Bernardino, Imperial, Riverside, San Diego, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, Ventura, San Luis Obispo and the extreme western area of Kern county.

A. A. U. DOMINATION STANDS No 'Showdown' For 2 Years

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK.—Whether, as sundry Olympic developments forecast, A. A. U. domination over this country's simon pure athletics will be challenged, it will require more than the scattered gunfire loosed thus far by returning Olympians to bring about anything resembling an upheaval.

Current signs point to an effort by college leaders to obtain stronger representation in and perhaps definite control of the American Olympic association, before the invasion of Japan in 1940.

No 'Showdown' Soon
It will be two years, however, before there can be a showdown. Meanwhile the A. A. U. not only has time to put its own house in order but opportunity if not actual incentive to effect more harmonious working relations with the collegiate chieftains.

"It is well to keep in mind that since 1924, the trend has been consistently toward a more equitable balance of power between the A. A. U. and college groups in guiding the affairs of the Olympic association," points out Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft of Princeton, vice president of the American Olympic committee, and advocate of a "middle of the road" policy.

"To a greater extent than ever before, college men shared in the councils and management of the games just finished. There is no reason, as I see it, why the problems that have arisen cannot be solved by working together."

Furnishes Necessary Link
Sharing Dr. Raycroft's view is Robert H. Kiputh, Yale's Olympic swimming coach who has worked closely with the A. A. U. for years in the development of aquatic sports.

Old Rabbit Maranville is going like sixty for Elmira in the New York-Penn league. Short Sport Sidelights As Rounded Up By Ed Brietz

Glenn Hardin, the Louisiana hurdling ace, and Gene Venzke, the distance runner from Penn., were just a couple of the returning Olympians who got a few things off their chests. . . . they squawked because the badge-wearers rode first class while the athletes were No. 3. . . . Hardin said the trip cost each performer about $300. . . . Helen Stephens took 20 pounds during the Olympic trip and now tips the old beam at 175.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—California's 1936 state amateur golfing crown belonged to Matt Palacio, Jr., of San Rafael today, the result of a 1 up victory over James Rea of San Jose, in 36-hole finals played over the famous Pebble Beach course.

The final match before a week-end gallery of 1500 saw the 20-year-old University of San Francisco student take the championship on the last hole.

His par 6, gained through a 40-foot approach putt which rimmed the cup and left the ball two inches away, concluded a hard fought battle in which the lead see-sawed back and forth with never more than two holes separating the contestants.

SECOND GAME SLATED AT H. B. PARK

S. S. (Shorty) Smith, Al Kohler, Arch Hawkins Are New Officials

Can Louie Neva hold them to six insignificant singles again? Believing he cannot, the Santa Ana Stars will attempt to "show up" the Russian twirler in Huntington Beach's own gloomy backyard at 8:15 tonight.

George Lackaye's second-half champions were overwhelmed, 6 to 0, in the National Nightball league's playoff opener here Friday, and if Huntington Beach wins again the Stars will be fighting with their backs to the wall.

Tonight's umpires will be S. S. (Shorty) Smith, Al Kohler and Arch Hawkins.

Lackaye Still Confident
Manager Lackaye is confident his "Redbirds" will get to Neva before it is too late. His prediction that Santa Ana will win in six games still stands despite Joe Rodgers' firm belief his Southern California champions will dispose of the Stars in six games—perhaps four straight.

The clubs return to the Municipal bowl for a third encounter Wednesday night, and hook up at Huntington Beach Friday.

Jim Coates silenced the big bat of Neva in four times to the plate in the inaugural, but the other Oilers—Bob Smith, Ed Daley, George Murray and Paul Neva—compensated for his loss of plate power while Larupin' Louie furnished the pitching—and what pitching!

Probable Lineups
Coates has much better games in his system, Santa Ana fans maintain, and expect him to "cut loose" either tonight or Wednesday with an upset.

The probable lineups:
Huntington Beach—Henry Thiery, 2b; Orville Schuchardt, cf; George Murray, 3b; Louie Neva, p; Paul Neva, c; Joe Rodgers, ss; Ed Daley, lf; Bob Smith, 1b; Pete Osborn, rf.

Santa Ana—Tom Denney, lf; Al Reboin, rf; Ray (Doc) Smith, ss; George Preble, 2b; Tom Young, 3b; Elmer (Nan) Coates, 1b; Jim Coates, p; Ben Koral, c; and Rod Ballard, cf.

College Grid Aces Set For Detroit Pros

By EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO. (AP)—The boys who've played for glory—and those who do their stuff for cold cash—play for keeps before 80,000 gridiron fans at Soldier field tomorrow night.

The collegiate all-stars, a half-hundred of the finest college and university football stars of 1935, oppose the Detroit Lions, world's professional champions, and both squads are expected to cut loose in an effort to throw some light on that old football puzzle—"Can a good college team whip a good professional outfit?"

The former collegians rested today, having wound up an 18-day training campaign yesterday with a snappy drill and review of tactics expected to stop the national professional league titleholders.

There wasn't any question about which 11 players would start the tilt—the fans of the nation who selected the squad in a nation-wide poll participated in by 183 newspapers have taken that job out of the hands of Head Coach Bernie Bierman and his four assistants.

At the flank position will be Wayne Miller of Notre Dame and Keith Topping of Stanford. Dick Smith of Minnesota and Truman Spain of Southern Methodist will be the tackles, while Paul Tangora of Northwestern and Vernon Oech of Minnesota will be the guards. Homer Jones of Ohio State will handle the center duties.

In the backfield will be Riley Smith of Alabama, elected captain of the squad, at quarterback, Bill Shakespeare of Notre Dame and Jay Berwanger of Chicago at the halves, and Sheldon Beise of Minnesota at fullback.

Postpone Attempt At Speed Marks

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah. (AP)—Rain forced postponement today of Ab Jenkins' scheduled 24-hour assault against an assortment of land speed records held by a pair of Englishmen.

Wrestling Champion Makes Debut

Dave Levin, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, who makes his debut at the Orange County Athletic club tonight against Howard (Hangman) Cantonwine.

LEVIN DRAWS HANGMAN IN 3-FALL GO

Joe (Toots) Mondt Will 'Second' Titleholder; Pico Tests Freeman

The first undisputed world heavyweight wrestling champion since Ed (Strangler) Lewis' heyday—Dave Levin—handsome young Brooklyn butcher boy, makes his first appearance at the Orange County Athletic club tonight. It will be his first match since he defeated Vincent Lopez for the title.

Levin climbs into the ring to face the sensational Iowa cave-man, and master of the spectacular unorthodox maneuver known to the sport as the "hangman act," Howard (Hangman) Cantonwine.

They clash in a best two-out-of-three fall, one-hour time limit tie before an anticipated crowd of 2500 fans, who are likely to pay $1500 or more to see the champion. Levin, according to the terms, is to receive 50 per cent of the gate and the challenger 15 per cent.

Plans Eastern Invasion
Levin's appearance at the Highway 101 arena probably will be his only one here. It is understood he plans an eastern invasion shortly.

In meeting Cantonwine, however, the champion runs the risk of leaving this section minus his world title, because Cantonwine is rated a tough wrestler, as well as a spectacular one. He twice beat Nick Luze and last week had Vincent Lopez thoroughly beaten when he slipped and Lopez gained the fall without quite knowing how it happened himself.

In view of the fact that Cantonwine is regarded a dangerous foe, Joe (Toots) Mondt, the former cowboy mat star, and present manager of the titleholder, will be at the ringside to second his charge. It is understood Mondt will use a signal system to coach Levin.

Freeman vs. Pico
All the heat of the night isn't apt to take place in the main event. The battle between Fred Freeman, notorious Jewish rougher, and Juan Olguivall-Pico, 225-pound Basque-Mexican, should furnish some of the thrills. Another sensational bout will come between the Greek heavyweights, George Kondelis and Les Papiano, in a rematch. The opener shows Baby Bob Coleman, popular 165-pounder, and the Nipponese "rubber ball," Mitsuo Hamanaka, who returns here after a successful northern invasion.

The first bout is billed for 8:30 p. m., with general admission tickets going on sale one hour earlier. A slight increase in prices holds for the title bout.

TIERNAN'S FACE GLENDORA, DOWN L. A. 'STARS,' 31-5

Tiernan's Typist errors were all set today for tomorrow night's debut in the Southern California softball tournament—against the Glendora girls on Crawford field in Alhambra.

Joe's Grocery, City league champions representing Santa Ana in the men's division, has drawn a first-round game with South Pasadena on the same diamond—probably at 7 o'clock. Joe's will play Anaheim in a game here tonight.

Catcher Ruth Lehnhardt clouded three home runs while Coach Bono Koral's Tiernan girls overwhelmed an alleged collection of Los Angeles "All-Stars" by the staggering score of 31 to 5 here Saturday night.

It was not so much the Tiernan club's greatness as the inability of the invaders to play the caliber of ball to which the Santa Ana girls champions have been accustomed. The Los Angeles nine appeared the weakest of Santa Ana's many practice opponents.

Miss Lehnhardt and Dorothy Stevens were the shining lights of the Santa Ana attack with six hits in seven swings, but they had company. Phoebe Miller cracked a homer and three singles; Esther Coates, a double and two singles; Beatrice Forry, a home run, double and single; and Roberta Howell, three singles.

Jimmy Coates, who assists Koral with coaching the girls, was at the loud-speaker.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By I. N. (BRICK) GAINES

RAY PIXLEY, Fullerton's most popular race car driver, died yesterday. He passed out "with his boots on," just as he thought he would. He succumbed to a broken back and other injuries while being rushed to a hospital after a wreck on the Roby, Ind., race track.

Just before he went to Indianapolis, where he astounded old-timers by taking sixth place in his first try on the famous brick track, Ray talked a little bit about drivers being flagged off the track by the gentleman with the scythe.

"Heck," he said, "we all expect to get it, some time or other. Some guys are lucky and last for a long time. Others act foolish and die young. Nope, I'm not afraid of getting it during a race. If it's going to happen, it'll happen anyway."

That was his philosophy, and a real guy "got it" yesterday.

Also, a friend of San Juan Capistrano is dead.

George Summerfield, descendant of early San Juan pioneer families, was buried in the little hill-top cemetery of the mission town Saturday morning. He died last Wednesday.

He was fondly known as "Tito" among the townspeople, and often recounted memories of his early childhood about the mission during the time of Padre Jose Mut. In the early '80s, he was also fond of telling of his experiences as a jockey at the old Santa Ana race track in the late '30s and early '40s, where he rode many a horse for Don Marcos Forster and for the Sepulvedas, having been instructed in the art by his stepfather, Don Jose Antonio Pico II, nephew of Governor Pio Pico.

Other memories of the pastoral days, then surviving in Orange county, had to do with his long ride on horseback down into the mysterious "Frontiera" of Baja California with his grandfather, Don Domingo Yorba, lord of Rancho Niguel in this county and of San Isidro Ajololo in "La Frontera." Don Domingo, he recalled, rode a white steed and wore a blue velvet cape richly adorned with silver and very similar in shape to Don Jose Sepulveda's now on display in Bowers museum in Santa Ana.

"Tito" was well liked in the mission pueblo and many mourners attended rites at the mission.

Now, we'll take up the business of Laguna's bathing suits. Yes, again!

Talked with Capt. George Portus, chamber of commerce booster, the other day. George said they weren't trying to be mad as much as anything like that. Just working for a little decency on the streets of the Village. Which is a fine idea.

After that, I remembered Vernon Beck's fling at the bare-chested bathers, which may have started the whole trouble. As editor of the Coastline Dispatch at San Juan Capistrano, Editor Beck giggled, in poetry, about the state of affairs. The city council action, passing a new law, followed. However, Editor Beck's poetical frenzy was just getting a good start. Because last week he burst forth with another little bit which is truthful, as well as appropriate. Here it is:

I Love a Parade

Laguna's ill, 'cause it's got its fill,
Even as you and I,
Of the rags and the bones, and the
hanks of hair,
And the gangs of folks who do not care
How much they show as they parade
over there,
Even as you and I.

Oh, the things one meets on the village streets
Even as you and I;
Oh, the feet, and the legs, and the
bulging frame,
The wild, and the tame, and the
creaking dame,
No two creatures built the same,
Even as you and I.

Now Laguna cries, with ears in eyes,
Even as you and I,
That the rags and the bones and the
hanks of hair
Can no longer parade the streets
while bare—
(But they'll still be looking at ladies fair)
Even as you and I.

Heeded the call of the wild yesterday. Barton Flats, up above Redlands, where Dave Davies, Midway Citian, has a cabin. Ate too much, slept too much, but didn't catch enough trout. Lotsa deer in that country. Three nice ones woke up yesterday morning. Just meandering around, looking innocent.

Nice trip for a Sunday. Good roads and easy grades. Drive up, and look over the YMCA and Boy Scout camps!

Included in Plan

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Acceptance of a government grant totaling $100,035 at a special city council meeting this morning marked the first step in actual work on a sea wall for Balboa Island, upon which work is expected to start by Oct. 1.

Word was received early today that the huge grant had been approved, and that federal agencies were willing to bear about one-half the cost of constructing the $235,000 sea-wall. The council met immediately to accept the grant and will meet again next Monday evening to advertise for bids on the project.

The remainder of the cost will be borne by a special assessment district formed on the island. Plans include the huge wall, completely encircling the island, five public piers, an eight-foot promenade walk and an ornamental lighting system.

For sometime the wall was a matter of discussion and argument among island residents, with the matter discussed frequently before meetings of the city council, but arrangements were finally made whereby property owners in the district agreed upon a plan for assessments to furnish the sponsor's share of the project, and a plea for federal aid was dispatched immediately.

Anglers Catch 6 Swordfish

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—An unprecedented run of marlin swordfish, which has been bringing nationwide fame to the harbor area, continued unabated yesterday, with at least six boats entering the port here yesterday flying swordfish flags.

John Detweiler, Glendora, on Clarence Atkinson's "Mary J." brought in the largest recorded fish, which weighed 225 pounds. Horace Holmes, also of Glendora, scored with a 181-pound marlin from Capt. Eddie Offerle's "J. P. M." while C. L. Minert, Los Angeles, brought in a 145-pound trophy on the "Vampire," owned by Henry Wright.

Several other huge fish were brought into the harbor but pilots failed to report to Weighmaster Steve Smith, it was reported.

HOLD PAIR FOR DOVE HUNTING

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—Charged with "beating the gun" on opening of the dove shooting season, two men will face Justice John Landell here Thursday on a charge of killing dove out of season.

The dove season opens at 7 a. m. tomorrow.

NEW PLAYS BRING LIFE TO LAGUNA LITTLE THEATER

By ARVID GILMOUNT

LAGUNA BEACH.—With presentation of a number of modern plays, the Little Art theater on Graceland drive, that once housed early exhibitions of Laguna painters, is to come fully to life again.

The building, owned by "Ir" and Mrs. Fred Schwankovsky, has been leased to Frank Marshall and Ward Bailey, producers and actors now living here.

Frank Marshall began his theatrical career at an early age in Paris, later appearing with different companies in the East. During the recent Festival of Arts he appeared in the "Kongo Dance" number. Bailey has been actively identified with the little theater movement for several years.

The history of this building since the day when Wayne Moore stepped up to the wreckers who were about to demolish it, and shouted "spare that art gallery," accompanying his appeal with a

BEAN CLEANING
WORK STARTS

GARDEN GROVE.—Work on preparing this year's crop of lima beans for market was started Saturday at the Garden Grove Bean Growers association house with a crew of 21 women and eight men. All machinery in the plant has been recently overhauled and a new mill installed which will be of great benefit in the cleaning operations.

The house is expecting to handle about 35,000 sacks, less than last year, when 30,000 sacks were handled. The July hot spell is blamed for the shortage, but to what extent the beans were damaged that time has not yet been determined, although it is known that extreme heat stopped development of some of the beans.

Returns for this year's crop are expected to be materially greater, as the growers are now being offered 7 cents a pound or better. The price at the opening of the season last year was 6 cents or less.

The cleaning operations are not expected to be finished before the last of December.

WRECK CAUSES
CITY ACTION

LAGUNA BEACH.—As the result of a spectacular automobile accident early Thursday morning on Temple Hills drive in which four persons narrowly escaped death, a request was made today by James F. Garvin, a resident living close to the scene of the accident, that steps be taken by the city to warn drivers against traffic danger at the hairpin turn.

Garvin, addressing Mayor L. F. Mallow, suggested installation of a reflector and placing of a strong guard rail. Inquiries revealed that there is considerable traffic on the road and that there have been several near-accidents at the turn.

PHILIPPINE
EXPLAINED

LAGUNA BEACH.—Faced with the realization that complete independence and resultant withdrawal of the United States from the Philippines, leaving the islands to their own destiny, will mean the loss of a profitable market, not to mention the question of adequate national defense against invasion, has had a sobering effect upon the minds of thinking Filipinos. As a result, there is less clamor for independence today in the Philippines and there are those who question the advisability of cutting loose from this country.

These were the observations of Archbishop P. Wise Clarkson, of the American Catholic church, during his recent visit to Manila, Cebu, Iloilo, and other points in the Philippines while touring the Orient. He returned here a few days ago from a seven-month trip during which he visited Japan, China, India, the Dutch East Indies, and other countries in the Far East. Bishop Clarkson makes his home here in Laguna.

"Hinduism with its caste system is a dying religion in India," the churchman remarked. Groups have sprung up in India urging the abolition of the caste system which is being viewed as a bar to social and political development, he added. Another observation made by Bishop Clarkson was that Mahatma Gandhi is losing ground as a political leader and his influence is distinctly on the wane.

Floyd Arce and Buddy Forster were in charge. More than 50 persons were present at the barbecue dinner, prepared by George and John Forster.

About 40 per cent of all thefts during freight transit is coal.

PARALYZED PARKING

(Coastline Dispatch)
Out of the mouths of babes comes the real truth. In a certain Southern California city recently a law was passed eliminating diagonal parking in favor of modern parallel parking. A youngster had heard his parents sincerely condemning the new parallel plan, and finally he asked, "Daddy, what is paralyzed parking?" And, according to the citizenry of that certain city, their new parking arrangement is just that. Santa Ana is now trying to decide whether that city should install five-cent parking meters. If Santa Ana does, the city fathers will learn as they have in other cities now metered, why no more Scotchmen are seen about their respective streets.

SCREEN THIEF MAKES FAST GETAWAY

Robber Flees With Loot
As Miss Lena Thomas
Returns Home

Santa Ana's screen burglar was still at large today after looting a North Broadway home of $125 in jewelry, being surprised by the owner, and fleeing from police Saturday night.

Police learned, they said, that the burglar, whose nightly raids have netted about $1000 in cash and jewelry, has an accomplice who serves as a "lookout."

Burglar Escapes

As Miss Lena M. Thomas, 1428 North Broadway, entered her home at 7:20 p. m. Saturday she heard a noise upstairs, then the sound of a man running down the stairs and out the back door. She saw only a shadow of the intruder, she reported to police. Rings, pins, a hand-tooled leather jewel case and a gold Swiss wrist watch were missing.

Officers George Boyd and William Nielsen, returning from a visit in Placentia about the same time, but unaware of the burglary, stopped to investigate a suspicious-looking man on Sycamore street. The man ran into the rear yard of the Y. M. C. A. and disappeared, but the jewel box was found in the Y. M. C. A. yard where the prowler had dropped it. About $25 of the loot was in the box.

Lookout Flees

A half dozen officers searched the neighborhood but were unable to find the burglar. Neither Nielsen nor Boyd was able to obtain a description of the burglar, they said.

Another man, seated in a dark coupe across from Miss Thomas' home, sped away as Miss Thomas approached her house, leaving the screen burglar to make his own escape, unaided, police reported. They were attempting to check the car today.

Entrance to Miss Boyd's home was gained through a back porch and by means of a pass key used on the rear door. In previous burglaries the thief has cut window screens to gain entrance.

Accuse G.O.P. of Seeking Dictatorship; Democratic Borrowing Policy Scored

The Journal conducts this forum so that its readers may receive full and authoritative information upon the issues of the presidential campaign. Horace C. Head, chairman of the county Democratic campaign committee, and B. Z. McKinney are in charge of this party's contributions. Howard Irwin, head of the Republican county central committee, and Dr. W. E. Dixon are contributing their party's articles.—Editor's note.

BY THE REPUBLICANS

New Dealers seem to be satisfied with politically controlled banks. Let me quote Orval W. Adams, second vice-president of the American Bankers' association and executive vice-president of the Utah State National bank, Salt Lake City, from an address delivered before the Montana Bankers' association on July 25, 1936, entitled "If Our Depositors Only Knew."

"We know that the continuance of the present spending and borrowing policies of government can lead to but one end, the destruction of the savings of our depositors. It is our duty to do what we can to make the people tax conscious, to show our depositors that visible taxes are but a trifling portion of the real tax burden, to show them not only the extent to which invisible taxes cut into their earnings and their savings, but also to show them how they are further taxed as truly as though such impositions were called taxes by the low interest policies of government and by competition of government with banks."

Borrowing From Banks

"The depositor as such has refused to purchase government bonds. Does he know that in the past year five out of every six dollars of the new moneys borrowed by the federal government have been borrowed from banks?"

"Banks today hold obligations of the government totaling some three times their aggregate capital."

A drop of even 10 points in the market of such bonds would wipe out 40 per cent of the capital of the national banks of the country. We know that the present market for bonds of the United States is an artificial market. We know that there could be no sale of the bonds held by us except to other banks. We know that the very occasion requiring the sale of such bonds by us would require a sale of such bonds by other banks. Yet, as a whole, we continue to purchase the obligations of government."

Deposit Insurance

"But this is not all. The average depositor relies in part upon the security afforded through insurance of depositors in the FDIC. But does the average depositor know that the corporation to protect his depositors holds total assets of some $340,000,000, of which about $320,000,000 consist of bonds of the United States?"

"To put it bluntly, the primary function of the FDIC today is to protect banks against the risk of loss resulting from depreciation in bonds of the United States, and this it accomplishes through the ownership of such bonds itself."

"Of the total bills and securities now owned by the 12 federal reserve banks, more than 98 per cent consist of obligations of the federal government. In 1926 this percentage was approximately 27."

BY THE DEMOCRATS

The nominee of the Republican party said that along with balancing the budget the hungry must be fed. He said, "their relief at all times is a matter of plain duty." Let us again measure promise by performance and see how that has been handled in Kansas.

Senator McDonald of the Kansas legislature reports the following:

He (Senator McDonald) headed a delegation to Governor Landon last December to demand immediate enactment of state social security laws. "We put it up to him and he told me that the needy in our country were getting adequate relief."

"I said to him, 'why, governor, do you know that we are able to provide only $1.08 a week for a family of three and $1.75 a week for a family of four?'"

Dictatorship?

"Well, that ought to be enough," he said.

Need anything more be said on that score, except to ask, what kind of farm relief, what kind of old age pensions can be expected from that point of view?

Between breaths of the flag-waving frenzy of the Republican and the Liberty leaguers, they find occasional time to scream through the partisan press that the New Deal is headed to a dictatorship. Just the reverse is true, it has stopped a dictatorship.

President Roosevelt was elected by the people of the United States in the manner provided in the constitution of the United States. Congress likewise was elected in the manner of the United States since the inception of the New Deal has been in the hands of the persons who were elected by the people of the United States and nobody else. The seat of government has been Washington, D. C., and no place else. If that is dictatorship that is the type of dictatorship intended to be established by the constitution of the United States."

Court Power

"It is not the dictatorship that emanates from the economic stronghold of those who now so jealously covet the reign of power. And is it not more reasonable to conclude that those who are crying dictatorship are simply and plainly so because they have been unable to dictate policies of this government to their own financial ends, or that they are piqued at some fancied slight? And yet these are the people who are banding together to defeat the New Deal."

"Everyone of them at heart are dictators and every American citizen must give pause before executing his solemn duty to cast his ballot in November, as to whether or not he will choose the form of government provided by the constitution, and saved by Franklin D. Roosevelt, or take the course by which the false prophets desire to lead them into a private dictatorship."

WILL LAUNCH NEW FORUM TUESDAY

Meetings Scheduled for Huntington Beach and Tustin Citizens

The much heralded Orange county federal forum will open tomorrow.

The first event will take place in the Tustin Union High school. Homer Chaney, director of the forum project, will discuss "Consumers Cooperation." Chaney is a well known speaker on economic problems.

On the same date Dr. Graham A. Laing, noted economist, will speak at the Huntington Beach Memorial hall on "The Price of Progress." Both meetings will start at 7:30 p. m. and are open to the public free.

The forum project is one of 10 similar federal projects being launched throughout the nation. The national division of education at Washington, D. C., is sponsor of the projects.

Throughout the forum season there will be talks by outstanding authorities and experienced forum leaders in various cities and towns of the county. In addition there will be smaller gatherings for discussion of current problems, under competent leadership.

Chaney, as director of the project, is cooperating with Frank Henderson, school superintendent, who is administrator. A county-wide advisory committee has been appointed to work with the forum organization.

PROBE THREE REAR ENTRY THEFTS

Burglars Climb Through
Back Windows in Trio
Of Robberies

Three rear window burglaries committed sometime Friday night were under investigation by the finger-print experts of the sheriff's office today. The burglaries occurred in widely separated parts of the county—two in Anaheim and one in Balboa.

The homes of A. A. Morris, 523 Citron, and Ed Schneider, 213 North Helena, Anaheim, were entered during the evening. Pursues of guests in the Morris home were rifled during a party. The Schneider home was ransacked while the family was on vacation.

Thieves who entered the Edgewood Tavern, Adams and Bay Front, Balboa, through the rear door transacted some $5 in cash from the register, six pennies, and an undetermined number of nickels secured by prying open the marble machine. Deputy Sheriff Russell R. Lutes is investigating all the burglaries.

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column, dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader whose opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

California, here I come with news and views of the Townsend Plan, a feature which will appear daily in The Journal. For the past few months I have suspected that Townsendites would show their appreciation to a newspaper which would have the courage to give opportunity to its Townsendite readers to have a representation in its columns. Especially when done with every-day regularity. Someone has said that "thought is father to the deed." At any rate, my thought of a column for Townsendites becomes a reality with today's issue of The Journal.

I will await with interest the reactions of you Townsendites and others sympathetic with the Townsend Plan to this venture. I am limited in my ability as a mind reader, and so I suggest that you write me what you think of the idea of a "Townsendite being employed by The Journal to represent its Townsend readers. And the editor is human, so perhaps a few words of appreciation to him would not be amiss.

40,000 GET BONUS

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Some 40,000 employees of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company received 14 per cent more than their regular wages today for the month of August under the company's excess earnings plan.

The writer is of the opinion that the Townsend followers after a few days of reading this column will rejoice because at last there is a newspaper which is willing to become a vehicle through which Townsend truths (as well as untruths) can be broadcast to the public. Perhaps not as much space can be used as many of you would like to see accorded to this column, but as much will be used as is harmonious with other subjects of interest which must also be given space in The Journal.

I am quite well known to you Townsendites of Orange county, having served you as a Townsend speaker from almost the start of your movement. For an approximate period of one year I acted as speakers' bureau manager for the county, and during the first six months of the current year I was the appointed county organizer for the Townsend movement. During the two and one-half years in which I have served the Townsend cause in these various capacities I have become thoroughly familiar with Townsend organization methods and the splendid objectives sought by its members. I am therefore qualified to write constructively for the Townsend cause and will always endeavor to do so.

This column can be made more interesting if Townsend club members will write me news of importance of a Townsend nature as they observe happening in their portion of the county. The Journal goes all over Orange county, and this column will include from time to time representation to all portions of the county through its news and views. And in addition, there are subscribers in other counties and in other states who will read this column who too will be pleased to write their approval of this feature of The Journal. It will be impossible for the writer to answer your communication with personal letters in reply, but please know in advance that hearing from you will be a pleasure and in some instances it may be possible

+ + History Makers + + David Hewes, Capitalist, Was Also Collector and Philanthropist

(Men are remembered after their death for their unselfish service to their fellow men. Robert Gardner of Orange has written a series of articles about pioneers of this section, which The Journal is publishing in order to preserve the memory and deeds of outstanding characters. Today's sketch tells about David Hewes.—Editor.)

David Hewes started his associations with Orange county when he purchased over 800 acres in about 1885. Originally it was a sheep ranch but he developed it into a fine vineyard. It was his misfortune to have his vineyard destroyed with the blight along with all the other vineyards.

He restocked his ranch and developed it with oranges, lemons, walnuts and olives. His ranch became one of the best in Southern California. It was his ambition to make his ranch one of the beauty spots of Southern California, so Hewes park was designed by R. G. Frazer who designed the famous Busch gardens in Pasadena.

He was successful as an orange grower. In 1909 the yield sold for $72,000.

He was cultured and believed in education. He was a trustee of Mills college in Oakland. He served the students by donating $10,000 to carry on the work of that institution. He gave $2000 to Occidental college. He aided in the maintenance of the Old Folks home in San Francisco. He subscribed to build the Presbyterian church in Tustin. He presented to Stanford university a collection of valuable pictures and statues that he had collected during his broad travels. He was a patron of the arts. He collected more than 1000 Pompeian frescoes and many photographs. These were a source of enjoyment to his associates.

He lived a life of beauty and service. Such public spirit will long be remembered by all who touch the donations and contributions of his life.

to give some recognition in this column's make-up to those who write me. The writer doesn't promise to do so, but try and see if you are lucky.

The writer of this feature is not forgetful that there will be other readers of The News and Views besides the Townsendites. Some of these will be in violent disagreement with the Townsend philosophy of economics and others will just be indifferent. But neither of such attitudes is going to discourage or embitter the spirit of this Townsendite. Many of the Townsend plan's most ardent advocates were once its most violent opposers and others who went along indifferently and unconcerned over the nation's problems are pointing today to the Townsend plan as the way out of our maze of difficulties. The Townsendites who are real and genuine are not discouraged. They believe in the righteousness of their cause and in the correctness of the Townsend method. They crusade in behalf of a new freedom for themselves and their brothers and it is out of the material of present unbelievers that they expect to swell the ranks of their comrades. And so I will write to those who disagree with as great a heartiness as I will to those who now endorse the Townsend Plan.

Several Santa Ana girls entering Julia Lathrop junior high school this month will need help to get the middle blouses and dark skirts required as school uniforms.

To mothers of these girls, Mrs. Iva Webber, dean of girls at the junior high school, today extended an invitation to meet with her in her office between 10 a. m. and noon Wednesday.

Wherever possible, Mrs. Webber hopes to supply uniforms or part of the uniform for girls in need, she said.

At the same time, she appealed to mothers who have discarded uniforms to turn them over to her Wednesday morning or before then, in order that some girl unable to furnish her own uniform may use them.

Accused of stealing license plates from Robert Arundell, 324 East Myrtle street, Santa Ana, Alfred Sanford Haines, 20, a transient, was prepared today to stand trial before City Judge John G. Mitchell Sept. 1 on a petty theft charge. He pleaded not guilty on Saturday.

Haines, according to officers, is wanted in Los Angeles on two auto theft charges, and at Huntington Beach on a hit-and-run driving charge. He was arrested Friday by California Highway patrol officers.

ENTIRE AREA IN NEED OF HOMES

Federal Agency To Expand Service As Spur
To Construction

It only needs a spark to set off a building boom that will be heard around the county.

Developments today indicated that the housing shortage gripping Santa Ana is virtually as severe in all portions of Orange county. From Fullerton in the north to Newport-Balboa in the south a definite need for rentable houses is being felt.

Mrs. Zelda Oxarart, head of the Orange county better housing plan, said today that letters had been received at her office from Chambers of Commerce in every city in the county except Laguna Beach, requesting that representatives of the federal housing loan office here be stationed in chambers throughout the county to explain the federal loan plan to prospective builders.

To Expand Project

Mrs. Oxarart revealed plans to expand the housing program to embrace the county, due entirely, she said, to the number of people wanting to build, and wanting information on loans.

Contractors, builders and loan officials predicted today that the increase in building permit totals throughout the county, explained by federal relief building programs, would continue, as the pinch of housing shortage is felt.

Even beach cities, customarily faced with a slack period after labor day, have indicated that suitable houses for year-round occupancy will be scarce this winter.

Winter Building

The Newport-Balboa and Huntington Beach Chambers of Commerce have written to the housing program headquarters here that they are unable to fill requests for information on federal housing loans, and have asked for representatives from this office.

Newport, Huntington Beach and Laguna all have inaugurated plans for a winter building program, it was revealed today. Nature of the plans will be announced sometime in September.

In Santa Ana private residence building is definitely on the upgrade, as builders report a considerable demand for moderately priced homes.

And everywhere are indications that any spark, any minute will set off Orange county's building boom.

Methodist Chapel Forms Setting for Anderson-Chapin Nuptials on Saturday

Newlyweds Go North for a Honeymoon

Dresses and Bouquets in Old-Fashioned Theme

Quaintness and charm were attached to the lovely wedding ceremony Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the chapel of the First Methodist Episcopal church, in which Miss Harriet Chapin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Chapin of 515 East Chestnut street, Santa Ana, became the bride of Eugene Anderson, son of Mrs. Mammie Anderson of 115 East North street, Anaheim.

Miss Chapin's dress of white organza, made in the Gibson girl style with huge puff sleeves, flared skirt and a stand-up collar, was finished with a large bow that formed a train at the back; and with this she carried an old-fashioned nosegay of white roses and gardenias, with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Fleming Attends
Her matron of honor was Mrs. Victor Fleming, who wore a gown of pink chiffon, made with the same large puff sleeves and with a full skirt. Her flowers were pastel toned, centered with a pink rose.

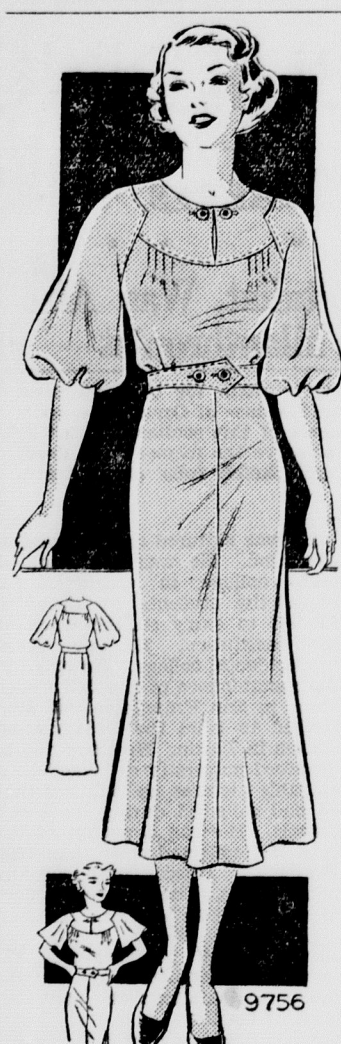

A young niece and nephew of the bride, Patricia Louise Fleming and Jimmie Clardy, the former in powder blue, floor length frock with puff sleeves and an old-fashioned pink and blue bouquet, and Jimmie in a white, long trouser suit, were the other bridal attendants, preceding the bride who was escorted to the altar by her father.

Songs Proceed Ceremony
Before the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. George A. Warner in the presence of about 100 guests, A. L. Cook of Fullerton sang two wedding solos, "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Cook, who also played the wedding marches.

Most of the decoration in the pretty chapel was greenery, ferns and palms banking the front of the church as a background for the dresses of the bridal entourage, and large baskets of yellow and white flowers being arranged through the church interior.

A reception for the wedding guests followed in the church parlors, the mothers of the bride and groom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Chapin wore a wine colored chiffon velvet with Taisman rose corsage, and Mrs. Anderson was in a flowered crepe with gardenias.

Centering the pretty table out in the patio was a large bowl of grapes arranged by Miss Louise Tubbs, one of the guests, and all appointments bore out the air of informality of the outdoor setting.

After cooking the mixture slowly for one hour, she adds one cup of seedless raisins and cooks the sauce for another half hour, then seals it in jars while hot.

Mrs. H. J. Howard had presented her sister with a bowl of beautiful giant zinnias and a table vase of Mexican sunflowers, which made a glowing decoration in yellow tones in the room. The artistic place cards were hand-blocked Mexican scenes.

Be Young with Children, Don't Postpone Starting Family—Letters Pour In

By MARY STODDARD

To start a family or to wait until in better financial circumstances—that was the question Mrs. C. E. put to Journal readers. They are responding with a variety of answers and an equal variation in viewpoints. You may not agree with today's writer, and personally, I don't—but maybe it will help Mrs. C. E. and others with the same problem.

Dear Miss Stoddard: I am writing in an effort to help Mrs. C. E. and her husband solve their problem. I agree with you, Miss Stoddard, that Mrs. C. E. should not delay, and since it is her husband's great wish, I see no reason why she should not have a baby now.

It seems to me if she is careful that within nine months they should have most of their bills paid. As for a washing machine, she does not need to get a new one.

I wish to state my own experience with babies. When my husband and I were married we were very much in love. He was 18 and I was 16. He didn't even have a job. This was in 1932.

We both loved and wanted children, so nine months later our baby girl was born in the county hospital, and oh, what a thrill it was when the nurse first brought her to me all red and wriggly in her blankets. My husband was crazy about her and it was such a pleasure to see him so happy.

In the summer he was able to get work, but in the winter we had to go back on relief.

Through all of this we were all very healthy and happy. Last year another baby girl found her way into our home and the nurses all said she was exceptionally healthy and well formed.

My husband now works on the WPA project, but because of the added responsibility of two children he has worked hard, and now has an office job which pays more money.

We are buying our little home and getting things gradually. All of the time we have both tried to do our best, and have had our children to spur us on and give us something to work for.

I wouldn't trade my youngsters for all the lovely furniture and expensive things in the world. They have brought my husband and I closer together than ever and when they grow up we will still be young. It is true, when things are put off it is easy to keep putting them off longer.

So I say to Mrs. C. E., have your baby right away and reap your years of happiness being young with him. Things will always work out. Don't worry so much about how you will pay your debts. If your husband sees his way clear it should be enough.

When I slip into my children's room after they are asleep and look at them, so beautiful and peaceful, my heart seems to almost burst with love for them. You, too, can know this joy, Mrs. C. E. and have the added joy of keeping your husband's love, for he is young, courageous and ambitious and will see that things are worked out happily for all. Sincerely, A YOUNG MOTHER.

CLASSMATES HAVE GAY REUNION
A group of schoolmates who were together through all the years from grammar grades to junior college and who have been meeting frequently this summer for good times, found incentive for a series of gaieties this past week when one of their number, who has made her home in Riverside of late returned to Santa Ana for a visit of several days.

The honored guest was Miss Marjorie Steffensen, who is the guest of her uncle and aunt, the E. Steffensens of 1016 North Olive street.

Santa Ana girls making up a swimming party in her honor one recent afternoon at Balboa bay were Mary Coffman, Joy Townsend, Dorothy Newman, Pauline Cave, Dorothy Jenkins, Isabel McCormack, and Evelyn Richards.

After the hours at the beach, they returned to their homes and gathered again later in the evening at the home of Miss Coffman, 1119 North Main street for a wienner bake served buffet style, with other appropriate food. The girls were seated on the grass in the garden for the supper.

These Santa Ana young ladies all will return to junior college this fall, and plans for the term to come took up much of the attention during the evening, together with games of "Monopoly" which were followed by the sipping of light refreshments at the close.

Complimenting Miss Clara Biessecker, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blanding entertained Saturday evening with a pot-luck supper at their home, 1473 Orange avenue.

Miss Biessecker, sister of Mrs. Blanding and her house guest for the past few weeks, left yesterday for her home in Harvey, N. D. She was presented with a gift by those present.

Monopoly tables were set for the party following dinner in the Blandings' garden. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. George Lackey, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Buttrick, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hazen, Jr., and Mrs. W. H. Bracewell, the Blandings, Miss Biessecker, and Carol Jean Burrows, Ethel Mae Hazen and Charles Blanding.

Poets' Corner

California Verse Reprints With Comments By MINA SHAFFER

With the passing of Sarah Bixby Smith, California loses one of her most loved and finest poets. At the time of her passing she was engaged in writing a history of Southern California, and another volume of personal reminiscences.

To her credit she leaves such charming books as "My Backwash Garden," "Passar," "The Bending Tree," "Wind Upon My Face."

CLOUDS
The wind is a sculptor
Cutting cloud faces
In the sky.

Faces of old men,
Rugged and sad
From life's knowing;
Faces of women
Graven with silence
Of wisdom
Or vapid with emptiness
Or catching the heart
With their beauty.

Faces of boys and of girls
Eager for living;
Faces of children.

MEADS COMING HOME
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mead, Jr. of North Prospect street, Orange, and their three children will return to their home tomorrow after a two-month vacation at Lake Arrowhead.

KOOL KOOKERY
Dedicated to helping Santa Anans arrange cooling meals with a minimum effort and cooking, this column will present daily a recipe appropriate for hot-weather meals.

Home-made chili sauce that surpasses the average bottled brand is made by Mrs. T. D. Knights. She starts off by peeling and chopping fine 12 large, ripe tomatoes and three apples. She puts two onions and two bell peppers through the food chopper.

To these and the apples and tomatoes she adds one and a half cups of vinegar, one cup of sugar, two teaspoons of salt, two teaspoons of paprika, two teaspoons of ground cinnamon, one teaspoon of ground cloves, and a dash of cayenne pepper.

After cooking the mixture slowly for one hour, she adds one cup of seedless raisins and cooks the sauce for another half hour, then seals it in jars while hot.

THORN in the FLESH

By GLENN L. THORNE

See where Jose Turbi has been asked to make himself conspicuous by his absence as director of the Great Lakes Symphony orchestra. In other words, he was fired. Fired, among other things, for objecting to an audience eating hot dogs and drinking pop.

Now Maestro Jose may have attended some ball games and knows how dangerous a pop bottle can be, and had the other player's health in mind when he made objections. Or, maybe the trombone players couldn't keep their minds on their business, and the thought of juicy hot dogs and lemon soda pop caused the saliva to flow, causing trouble.

Or, maybe Jose himself couldn't stand the delightful aroma of a fresh hot dog—mustard, onions, etc.—when he was too busy to enjoy one himself.

Anyway, I tuned in once, and if I were Turbi, I'd thank 'em for relieving me. Heard more police whistles, auto horns, crowd noise, etc., than I did orchestra. When they played the "Surprise Symphony," what surprised me was they tried to play over such commotion!

HOUSE-PARTY MURDER

By Mildred Saxon, Glendale

Harriet Blanes, wealthy old invalid, is murdered in her bed in her isolated country house in the midst of a blizzard. In the house, aside from the servant, are her niece and nephew, Joan and Rickey Blanes, three men, a maid, a stepson, Stephen Curtis, William Grove, whom Miss Blanes had invited for the week-end as prospective suitors for Joan's hand, Timothy Reilly, whom Joan had invited, and Miss Andrews, trained nurse. As the husband has cut them off from the outside world, they are forced to take things into their own hands. It is discovered that a $100,000 necklace is missing from Miss Blanes' room. Then Timothy shows Joan a man's coat button he picked up in the room and tells her he noted a button missing from Rickey's coat.

Chapter X

"It isn't true—it can't be true," Joan whispered.

"That is why I said nothing to the others," Timothy's voice was very gentle. "I wanted you to know so that we might be able to work together—to protect Rickey."

Joan covered her face with her hands. Rickey was weak, but . . . but murder! Timothy put an arm around her and held her tightly. It seemed to give her strength and she looked up at him at last, meeting his eyes.

"Tim—you don't think that Rickey . . ."

"I don't know what to think, really," he confessed, "but I do believe he has done something that is bothering him. At any rate, darling, that button doesn't prove anything conclusive. It may not even be his. I haven't too much faith in circumstantial evidence."

"What should we do?"

Timothy ran his fingers through his dark hair and sighed.

"I've been waiting in vain, for an inspiration," he said ruefully, "but I do think that there is one very important thing to do: find the necklace." He clipped his words short. "Unless it is found, it may mean more trouble. There are several people, I believe, who would like to get hold of those diamonds, and he lowered his voice—"some of them will stop at nothing to get them."

"Tim, you frighten me!"

"I'm frightened myself," he said seriously.

"But if we find the necklace," she protested, "how will that help?"

"If, for example, we all knew that the necklace was . . . the safe and we put a double guard on the safe, the murderer would have to lie low."

"And if the murderer were one of the guards?"

"At least, there would be less danger than there is now," he answered harshly. "I hardly think the killer would dare to use violence on his fellow guard—he would only give himself away."

Joan frowned. "You mean," she said slowly, "that so long as we don't know who has the necklace, someone might stumble on the hiding place and be killed by the murderer without giving us any more clues to work with than we have now?"

"Exactly."

"Then you believe that Auntie was murdered because of the necklace?"

"Positive."

"Tim, have you—have you any other ideas?"

"Lots, but none of them fit."

She put a hand on his arm. "Promise me that you won't do anything dangerous."

Timothy smiled, but there was a very determined glint in his blue eyes.

"I promise to do everything in my power to protect you from danger."

"But what danger could there possibly be for me?" She laughed incredulously, but Timothy's face didn't relax.

"I'm not taking any chances."

She was frightened and wanted him to explain what he meant but, before she could speak again they were interrupted by Meyers, who came running along the veranda towards them.

"Miss Joan . . ." He sounded breathless. "Cook is running away!"

"Cook running away?" Joan stared at him.

"Yes, miss," Meyers regained some of his natural composure and straightened up respectfully. "Yes, miss, and she's got a valise with her."

Timothy glanced out at the whirling snow.

"She won't run far, I'm thinking," he grinned at Joan. "Wait a second, darling—I'll go see."

But Joan, heedless of his words, opened the veranda door and plunged out into the blizzard. For a moment, the snow blinded her and she had trouble standing against the wind. "By the kitchen," she heard Meyers say, and began to beat her way around the corner of the house. It was slow going, for she sank deep in the snow with every step. Dimly, she was aware of Meyers and Timothy struggling along behind her.

Suddenly, she almost stumbled over the bulky form of the cook, who had fallen, floundering, into a snow drift. Joan sank to her knees beside her. The old woman's face was blue with cold.

In a moment, Timothy and the helper seized the woman by the arms and pulled her out of the drift. She seemed to have lost the power of locomotion, but, with a man on each side of her, and

AMERICA'S FIRST STREAMLINED NEWSPAPER

Everyone is aware that a streamline movement is sweeping the world. Automobiles, locomotives, ships, houses, furniture, even fashions are being designed this modern way.

The Los Angeles Times, attired in a brand new dress, today introduces for the first time the STREAMLINED NEWSPAPER.

You will see Times' headings set in beautiful Modern Gothic, a type devoid of old-fashioned humps and bumps.

You will see that all fancy borders, boxes, and other typographical gingerbread have been done away with.

You will note that headings are set flush to the left, permitting headline writers to summarize a story without the use of grotesque words and puzzling condensations.

You will read the news columns with a new sense of comfort, for the new, scientifically-designed body-type is the largest used by any metropolitan newspaper in the world.

Streamlining is the most important publishing development since the invention of WIREPHOTO, and makes Times' pages as trim to look at, and as efficient in performing their function, as the streamlined train or automobile.

The adoption of streamlining by The Times is in line with this newspaper's policy of keeping Southern California at the very forefront of newspaper progress. First to put the complete streamline program into effect. The Times is happy to present—"AMERICA'S FIRST STREAMLINED NEWSPAPER."

$15,000 CASH PRIZE CONTEST

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Diary: The nip of fall, my sequestered season, and melancholy in the air. Came an autographed copy of the play Charles G. Norris so bravely writ for Bohemian Grove. And a jingle from Carolyn Wells about the traveling Hattie Bell Johnston. Also notes from Julian Street and Amos n' Andy.

So a broad, passing Maury Paul, the famed Cholly Knickerbocker, spruce in a surcoat of tan with flowered cravat. Then talking to Dick Berlin about his visit to the Landons in Kansas and home to find a G. B. Shaw quip about a recent mention of his glossy beard.

Driving to Connecticut in the evening cool, stopping by Faith Baldwin's farm. And, coming on to rain, we supped at a rustic inn by lamplight and I was hopped thrice to chicken dumplings. Back to the city writing moonstruck messages to Betty Rogers, Raymond Dickson and the Gilbert Whites.

New York's No. 1 stunt for sight-seers is now the stupendous 17 winding miles of Triboro bridge. The most creditable civic performance the metropolis ever turned in. No one can approach or traverse it without a tingle. What might have been a complicated structure has been made marvelously simple by explicit guiding signs. The toll keepers, alert Jimmy Cagney types, use the quarter in the slot revolver-like hoodlums in the manner of the avenue buses and have been trained to a smiling courtesy, a sort of Roxy usher effect. So far, the bridge's daily intake averages $12,000.

Swing music may become the national mania. Certainly the vogue shows no signs of abating. The same was said of jazz. But this can be chalked up for the lift of other days: It has lost none of its charm. On a recent podge program the biggest band went to a gay 90 quartet singing "Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage." For an encore, it offered two modern songs and went off to scant applause. A popular band the other night failed to hook the crowd until it rendered the "Old Gray Bonnet." There was, too, that pretentious music show that stumbled indifferently through modern song numbers and then lifted the audience to its feet by having Irene Franklin warble a rip-roaring music hall favorite. A Ziegfeld show registered its biggest hit when Ruth Etting impersonated Nora Baynes with that old favorite, "Shine On Harvest Moon." Egbert Van Alstine knew the trick of popular tune composition when he turned out "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," too.

Broadway is another street Saturday night. It's given over almost completely to suburbia—the gentler non-pushing folk from the cottages out where the pavements end. The Paramount clock, for the only night of the week, floats up light like jinn rising from a bottle. One notices a pronounced courtesy in sidewalk traffic; the jostling brassiness that characterizes the street is missing. The Automats have their biggest night. Apple cheeks, gurgling laughs in contrast to the home faces are, rasy asides. Too, the street becomes amazingly deserted by midnight. The pickpockets have a harvest this night as a rule, also.

Ultra something or other: Marlene Dietrich engaging a drawing room for her trucks only. So she could change costumes frequently enroute to New York.

Bagatelles: Arthur Brisbane discovered Ford Kirk writing poems on a Colorado Springs newspaper and brought him to New York. . . . Bee Van Buren, Illinois, started out to be a circus tumbler. . . . Paul Whiteman intends to quit dining at 50 and go in for real eating from then on. . . . Frank Ward O'Malley was once Park Row's most highly paid reporter at $125 a week. . . . Cab Calloway is said to be runner up to Bill Robinson among Harlem's wealthiest. . . . Major Bowes was thinking of retiring when caught up by his radio fame. . . .

They were talking of remembered jokes from Punch. Mine: The bum, ordering a drink, tossed a coin on the bar. Crusty bartender: "Ere, I didn't like the ring of that florin." The bum, with fitting air of disdain: "It's an optimist you are. What do you expect for two bobs—a peal of bells?" A hundred modern gags radiate from that one, vintage 20 years ago. (Copyright, 1936)

Bright Moments

During the Seven Years' war, immediately before the battle of Lissa, a French grenadier was brought before Frederick the Great and was accused of deserting. "Why did you wish to quit us?" asked the king. "Because, sire," replied the soldier, "our affairs go so ill." "Well," replied Frederick, "I allow that you do not get on very well; but, my friend, just let us fight one more battle, and if after that our affairs do not go any better, why, we will desert together."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—Not much is being said about it, but the Roosevelt administration is pushing ahead very actively in buying up 4,000,000 acres in the drought area and turning them into grazing land.

Here is an actual sample of how the land purchase plan works: Several RA agents drove up to the farmhouse of George Silcrest, in Phillips county, Mont., not far from the Canadian border. Silcrest had 800 acres of dry land which he had homesteaded in 1920, moving west from Indiana.

They talked with Silcrest about his crops over the past 15 years. He said he had met with more failures than successes, that unless he could get hold of some land where water was available he might as well give up.

RA officials offered to buy his 800 acres, and to sell him an irrigated tract on the "Milk River project," not far away. They also offered to extend him credit toward the purchase of this new farm.

On the irrigated land Silcrest could raise crops of winter feed for his cattle. His own 800 dry acres would be turned back to grazing and become part of a government grazing district. Silcrest would have to get his living from cattle in the future, forget about grain farming entirely.

"What about the house?" Silcrest asked. Arrangements would be made to move the house over to the new "Milk River" location, he was told.

Silcrest took the offer. This procedure is being repeated with thousands of other farmers in the great plains area.

Some rugged individualists turn a cold shoulder to government aid. They are not forced to sell out. RA buys tracts around them, and leaves them to fight it out alone.

The chief obstacle RA is encountering, however, is not rugged individualism. It is government red tape.

A farmer who accepts an RA offer expects to get his money in a week or a month. Actually, he is kept waiting five, six, or even seven months, while four separate agencies—Resettlement, justice department, general accounting office, and treasury—pore over his abstract of title and finally authorize government purchase.

But when a few checks do finally trickle through into a district, and word gets around that the government is talking with cash, the rest is much easier for Resettlement.

G-WOMEN G-Boss J. Edgar Hoover wants the world to know that recent stories about "G-women" are without foundation.

"There is no such person as a G-woman," he says. "We are not able to employ women because our staff is too small to permit specialization. All our agents must be able to handle any kind of a job, and women detectives are only valuable for specialized types of cases."

There are women clerks in the bureau of investigation, but, in his own office, Hoover, a bachelor, has only men. His personal secretary and clerks are men.

HARVARD FEUD The recent appointment of Arthur A. Ballantine, assistant secretary of the treasury under Hoover, as administrative assistant to Republican National Chairman John Hamilton, revived an old feud between Ballantine and President Roosevelt.

What Other Editors Say

BASEBALL IN ENGLAND

(The Boston Globe)

Poor old England! Her peace is continually threatened with that monster known as "Americanization." Not long ago it was the accents of her citizenry. Both Oxford man and cockney were markedly affected by that talk of the artists in Hollywood.

And now it is the ancient institution of cricket. For some years the spectators have been demanding that the game be made more lively. They are getting more than they bargained for as baseball is being forced to the front. After gaining considerable foothold in the provinces, the game has reached London in the form of a league of six clubs known collectively as "The London Major League."

The turnstiles are clicking so fast that on the opening Saturday there were a total of 14,000 at the three league games. On another occasion a single game drew 10,000.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS ABILITY

(The Richmond Times-Dispatch)

Just what Mr. Landon might bring to international affairs, this newspaper, of course, does not know. Nor do we believe anybody else knows. Looking at the record, however, we have on the one hand a man who has made foreign affairs a life study—a man who mingled with the war-great of Europe, a man who lay abed for months stricken with infantile paralysis yet preparing himself for national leadership, a man who has been in constant touch with day-to-day developments. On the other hand, we have a man whose chief, if not entire, concern has been Kansas, and whose claim to international understanding is, at best, doubtful.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

The Call to Educational Freedom

WHEN political leaders get away from political topics they sometimes say worth-while things. Candidate Landon's speech on education at Chautauqua, New York, was notable in this respect. It is time that forthright position be taken on the vital matter of educational progress and freedom. As education is, next to the costs of war, our greatest financial burden, so is its integrity our greatest national concern. Free government could not long survive successful assaults on free schools.

Throughout Europe educational programs are subsidized and directed by government authority. As vehicles of moulding national sentiment. The particular form of control in immediate command of the situation dictates what shall be taught and its method of presentation. Every medium of public thought, press, pulpit, schools, radio—are bent to that end. The purpose is to censor every man's act and word, with the delusion that thereby every man's thinking may likewise be directed. And this solely to perpetuate the group in power.

It is of supreme importance that no such centralized controls over education be established in this country. Academic freedom must be jealously preserved. Without such freedom, we cease to

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town

With C. F. (SKINNY)

Went over to the Grand Central to see the circus. Lot of kids there, too. Remembered away back when the circus came to town and you got an idea that you could ride a horse or walk tight wire, or turn a somersault. Anyway you tried it the next day and it was lots more fun than carrying water for the elephant or for household use. I knew fellow whose equestrian skill wasn't good enough to keep him on top of a horse while the animal was walking. He fell off tight wire because he didn't realize the equality of a balance pole, and as for a somersault, well, he just tried it. But the still remains the glamor of the early circus days when the elephant meant more than the Republican party combined.

Three little children with clasped hands trying to cross an intersection. They realized the danger and looked cautiously up and down the street before attempting to negotiate the crossing. Rapidly moving autos continued to prevent children from getting across. Finally adult pedestrians acted as escort and the safety of the children was accomplished. Over Long Beach they have signs, busy intersections which require motorists to stop when pedestrians are crossing.

Had planned to call on Har Noble and go through the house but some other fellow beat me, and took the articles that I liked, so I'll wait until Harry stocks the place. I'll bring my own screen-cutting knife, and I have the same luck the other caller had. Harry will be worse off. Wish the police could catch with that burglar. So do the He makes me nervous. Not that he makes much around the place, he could sell, but I sort of feel uneasy going into the house late at night and wonderin' all the time if the furniture is in its accustomed place, or whether I'll find the refrigerator undisturbed. If you haven't got much there, always something to be disturbed.

Judge Mitchell got 30 days. Imposed the sentence upon him for leaving last Saturday to serve time in Minnesota. During his absence Judge John Landell of Ostrano will dispense fines, a good advice to his customers, you don't want to trade with Capistrano judge you can obey law or wait until Mr. Mitchell comes. But whether it's Mitchell, Landell, you asked for it.

There's a half dozen fellows looking for Chet McDonald. Some time ago the gavel belonging to local service club disappeared and this half dozen fellows think Chet knows its whereabouts. I do know how they got that way. McDonald has the key to his door. I can't find out what's in it. If I could I wouldn't be looking for a gavel.

Lunched with Jim Liebig, a formal like. That is I was able to get away with the informality of Jim the lunch, but I tried to do a part. Made about a fifty-fifty showing. Only interference was that Kelly who came up and warned Jim that the time was 12:30 when the Country club, at the foursome had been arranged for. That's where I got off. A same as invitation to go fishing.

Gosh, we got a dumb world. Alexander the Great after a military juggernaut, which included most of the known terrestrial sphere, put on a big party. Babylon, and passed out of the picture at the age of 33. Then it conquered countries broke up into fragments and principalities and he's been to pay ever since. As ka, who was roam'n' around some 227 B. C., abandoned war at sought conquest by religion—the Buddhist type. He was disgusted by the horrors and cruelties of war. Look what we got in Europe today? Some progress, eh?

Well, I wonder when they're going to quit knock, knocking. It's goofy but it's popular.

Went in to gab with Frank W. you know, the fellow with the peewee name. Someone told me was, is now, and evermore will be, but he wasn't when I called. I'm going back next week. Shot have known better, as Saturday one of those days when the bankers crowd five hours of give a take business into these, and the fellow on the outside looking in says what a snap the bank have. The public knows that banks open at 10 a. m. and close 3 p. m., and from a superficial view the public says pretty good. But Mr. Public should know that officials and clerks arrive as early as 7:30, often remain as late as 10, and then some of them are charged over town by customers who neglect to transact business with the banks are open. Yeah, banking business looks easy, you, because you look at it from the standpoint of hours. In order that the purpose of this item not misunderstood I want to tell you that I have a responsibility the banks, but no delinquency.

Spain's war situation may be described as vice versa. One side is winning, if the other isn't.
